

Connance CEO Tapped to Speak at Becker's Conference

Connance Chief Executive Officer Steve Levin will speak at Becker's Hospital Review Health IT and Revenue Cycle Conference in Chicago this month.

Becker's Healthcare is the leading source of cutting-edge business and legal information for healthcare industry leaders, publishing five trade publications for the healthcare industry. Now in its third year, Becker's Hospital Review Health IT and Revenue Cycle Conference also features internationally recognized speakers such as former President George W. Bush and Sugar Ray Leonard as well as notable US healthcare leaders.

Levin's presentation, scheduled for September 23, will give attendees insights on leveraging predictive analytics to enhance patient relationships and impact revenues for healthcare providers.

"From the front-end to the back-office, healthcare organizations need to maximize recoveries and find a way to improve relationships with patients," Levin explained. "Hospital business offices can have a significant impact on patients' overall hospital satisfaction, their payment behavior and their recommendation patterns. Our goal in this session is to teach other leaders about best practices they can apply to increase collections, improve patient experience and reduce collection costs.

"Connance is pleased to be recognized among industry leaders within this conference."

Conference registration is available in multiple formats. Those interested may call 800.417.2035, email registration@beckershealthcare.com or visit www.Regonline.com/HITConference2017.
